

Bryan Davis

Chief Financial Officer

Bryan Davis is Chief Financial Officer at Westinghouse Electric Company. In this role, he is responsible for Westinghouse's global finance organization, including accounting, tax, financial planning, treasury, investor relations, audit and internal controls functions.

Prior to joining Westinghouse in 2026, Mr. Davis served as a Managing Partner and Chief Financial Officer in Brookfield's Real Estate Group. He previously served as Chief Financial Officer of Brookfield Property Partners, the Firm's former flagship public real estate vehicle, Brookfield's global office property company, and Trilon Financial Corp., Brookfield's financial services subsidiary.

Prior to joining Brookfield in 1999, he worked in restructuring and advisory services at Deloitte.

Mr. Davis holds a Bachelor of Commerce degree from Queen's University and is a Chartered Professional Accountant.